Technical Details

❑ Release Information

The below release versions are available for certification

- SAP NetWeaver 7.0 or higher
- SAP S/4HANA 1511 or higher

❑ SAP NetWeaver Information Lifecycle Management (ILM from SAP) is an end to end approach to help SAP customers manage the life cycle of their information from the moment of creation to the point in time the information has to be destroyed. ILM from SAP is unique in that it takes the advances in ILM aware storage technology into account to make this end to end approach possible. At the core of ILM from SAP are traditional data archiving technologies, including Storage and Retention Service), which enables the storage of archived data on an external storage system through the WebDAV protocol. In addition, retention properties defined in the application play a central role in ILM from SAP, because these properties govern the life time of the information.

❑ The WebDAV Storage Interface for the ILM solution from SAP, BC ILM 3.0, verifies that the ILM aware storage system supports the scope of WebDAV required for ILM from SAP. More specifically, the WebDAV subset to be supported in preparation for ILM is extended by property operations, which are syntactically covered by the WebDAV standard specification. Finally, SAP defines concrete properties and assigns dedicated ILM semantics to them. Only those WebDAV servers supporting the semantics as described in the BC-ILM 3.0 specification provide added value in terms of ILM capabilities
