Aplos, which means simple, it's a common word that all people use, constantly and for many reasons. LIBER decided to give this specific name to its products in order to be recognized by customers for the simple natural ingredients and processes it uses to produce dairy products.

The local well-known supermarket chains and convenient shops trust company's milk-based products and derivatives. LIBER understands very well the importance of tasty and healthy products and ensures product quality from farm to market shelf by certificated procedures and daily inspections.
