Top 10 Unique Benefits of SAP S/4HANA for Finance

1. From batch to real-time

SAP S/4HANA Finance is a next generation finance system built on SAP HANA. It replaces batch processing with a real-time architecture. Real-time transactional data is integrated directly into the reporting and analytics applications. This allows automatic calculations and planning in real-time. It also improves productivity and reduces errors.

2. Single source of truth

SAP S/4HANA Finance delivers the S/4HANA single system of record. Centralized transactional data is available in both transactional and reporting systems. This allows you to run the same financial posting code across multiple plants and regions, and ensures a single, consistent view of your business.

3. No aggregation and data duplication

Unlike older systems, SAP S/4HANA Finance eliminates data aggregation and duplication. All transactional data is captured and available in a single system. This allows for more accurate financial reporting and improved decision-making.

4. Transactional and analytical data combined

SAP S/4HANA Finance is a true fusion system that combines transactional and analytical data in real-time. This allows you to run analytical processes at the source and uses application transaction data for reporting. This ensures that all users always see the latest data.

5. Smart applications

SAP S/4HANA Finance uses the latest technology to deliver modern applications that are easy to use. These applications are built on SAP Fiori and use AI to automate many processes. This makes it easier and faster to run your finance applications.

6. Nondisruptive replacement

SAP S/4HANA Finance is a disruptive replacement that can seamlessly coexist with your current environment. You can use it for new business processes even while running existing applications. This ensures a smooth transition and avoids any disruption.

7. Centralized finance

SAP S/4HANA Finance eliminates financial silos and provides a single financial view across your entire company. This allows you to optimize the organization and reduce costs by eliminating duplicate processes.

8. Complete, consistent choice

SAP S/4HANA Finance is the single source of truth for your company’s financial data. This ensures consistency across all company departments and regions. This improves accuracy and reduces errors.

9. Global coverage

SAP S/4HANA Finance provides your finance organization with global coverage. It supports all major industry segments, regulatory and accounting standards. This allows you to manage your finances in multiple currencies and locations.

10. Consumer-grade UI

SAP S/4HANA Finance delivers a modern UI that offers multiple view options. It is designed for easy use by people at all levels in your company. This improves productivity and reduces errors.
