1. Putting Business at the Heart of Tech

SAP offers all the solutions customers need to bring operational data (O-data) and experience data (X-data) together, intelligently. Our goal is to provide a unified experience and connect processes across SAP line-of-business solutions. We are doing it by delivering a suite of intelligent applications with SAP S/4HANA as the digital core, experience management (XM) leveraging our acquisition of Qualtrics, and with the Business Technology Platform as the central component connecting it all together to inject intelligence into business processes.

2. Calling All Developers!

We need your help with a research project we are working on to gather data that can help us understand your needs, preferences, and experiences better. As we plan for 2020, we want to stay focused on what is important to you - what you do, what you need, what you think. Your input will help us tailor new programs and initiatives around you.

4. The 29 Seconds in 29 Days SAP Community Video Challenge

For this virtual event, the attendees are those invited to participate, and those who will meet them on the virtual stage. This event is non-contiguous, in that you are asked to submit a video of yourself between now and, well, 29 days from when I posted this. You don't need to schedule a meet.
